Item 4 – Advisory Business

Schmidt Financial Management, Inc. (“SFM”) was organized in 2003 but has been in the advisory business since 2023. Evan Schmidt is the principal owner.

Investment Management Services

SFM will manage Client’s household assets on a discretionary basis based on information regarding Client’s investment goals and objectives, financial situation and tax status. This information will be provided initially by Client and updated periodically as material changes to Client’s financial situation occur. Client grants SFM unlimited discretionary trading authority to select third party investment managers and execute securities transactions on behalf of Client without obtaining specific Client consent prior to each investment manager selection and each transaction. However, clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

SFM will implement customized investment allocation utilizing unaffiliated third-party portfolio managers, mutual funds, ETF/ETNs and individual securities among other investments. SFM conducts a due diligence investigation, selection and monitoring process regarding various investment options utilized.

Household assets are comprised of Client assets held within custodial accounts linked to the Client household as agreed upon by Client and SFM. Household assets consist of cash, securities and debt instruments initially placed into the custodial accounts by Client plus all investments, reinvestments and proceeds of the sale of those assets, including, without limitation, all dividends, interest, appreciation and other additions, and additional custodial accounts established in the future that are agreed by Client and SFM to be included in household assets.

The third-party managers that have been retained to support the SFM will be licensed as investment advisers in the states where they conduct business or with the Securities and Exchange Commission. A copy of the disclosure brochure for each third-party investment manager will be provided prior to or when a client’s assets are allocated to a manager.

Sub-Advisory Services

SFM has entered into sub-advisory agreements with various independent investment advisers (“Sub-advisers”). Sub-advisers are often chosen because they possess certain expertise in securities or investment strategies that the Adviser does not have. Sub-advisory relationships enable SFM to offer clients a broader range of services.

Under separate agreement SFM will have the authority to allocate and reallocate client assets among various investment managers and will allocate assets to the Sub-advisers based on that authority. Sub-advisers are licensed as investment advisers by their resident states and other applicable jurisdictions or with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

SFM will gather information about a client's financial situation and investment objectives. The Sub-adviser will have the power and authority to supervise and direct all investment decisions for those accounts designated by SFM on a discretionary basis, including the purchase and sale of securities and any other transactions unless specifically directed otherwise by the Adviser in writing.

The Sub-adviser will have discretionary authority to aggregate (combine) purchases and sales of securities with similar orders of non-SFM clients and proportionately divide up securities if unable to fill all orders. An account will be deemed to have purchased or sold its proportionate share of the securities at the average price determined for the overall transaction when transactions are aggregated. More information on the Sub-adviser's aggregation policies is shown in the Sub-Adviser's brochure.

Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2025, SFM manages $485,360,202 in discretionary assets and $12,166,884 in nondiscretionary assets for a total of $497,527,086 in client assets.

Financial Planning Conflicts of Interest

A conflict of interest is created whenever SFM or an associated person recommends products or services to a client for which SFM or an associated person receives compensation.

However, financial planning clients are under no obligation to act upon any recommendations of SFM or to execute any transactions through SFM or an associated person if they decide to follow the recommendations.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Investment Management Fees

The SFM Advisory Fee is calculated by applying the annual Fee Schedule to the value of Client’s managed assets, determined quarterly and calculated based on the current market value as of the last day of the prior quarter. A Client is defined as parents and their dependents. However, the assets of all lineal descendants of a common ancestor and their spouses or spousal equivalents can be aggregated for the purpose of determining billable assets. The SFM Advisory Fee will be debited from Client custodial accounts on a quarterly basis in arrears. The initial SFM Advisory Fee for the first calendar quarter (or part thereof) will be calculated on a prorated basis for the number of days remaining in the quarter and deducted from Client accounts following the end of the first quarter.

Fees are payable only after services are provided, there are no unearned fees, and the client will not have a refund due upon early termination of the advisory agreement. However, the Adviser will prorate fees to the date of termination.

Clients will pay a SFM Advisory Fee as reflected below for managed assets and includes financial planning and consulting services (excludes held away assets):

	Assets Under Management	Annual Rate (%)
First	$1,000,000	0.90%*
Next	$1,000,000	0.80%
Next	$2,000,000	0.70%
Next	$4,000,000	0.60%
Next	$7,000,000	0.50%
Next	$10,000,000	0.40%
Over	$25,000,000	0.30%

*Subject to a minimum quarterly fee of $2,000.

Clients will pay a SFM Advisory Fee of 0.50% for managed assets only (excludes financial planning and consulting services and held away assets).

Fees are subject to change upon the Adviser giving the Client thirty days written notice in the manner prescribed in the Agreement. Client has the option of accepting the new fee schedule or terminating the Agreement pursuant to the termination provisions of the Agreement.

The account custodian may charge fees, which are in addition to and separate from advisory fees. Accounts may incur transaction costs, retirement plan administration and access fees, mutual fund annual expenses and other fees.

Certain private funds charge annual asset management fees, debt placement fees, and carried-interest profit participation after investors receive their capital back, plus a minimum return. Fees associated with private fund investments are in addition to and separate from SFM fees. Cash management program deposits are considered assets under management and are included in the investment management fee calculations.

Clients should note that fees for comparable services vary and lower or higher fees may be charged by different providers for similar services.

Fees paid by clients to independent third-party managers are established and payable in accordance with the ADV Part 2A brochure or other equivalent disclosure document of each independent third-party manager to whom the Adviser allocates client assets and may or may not be negotiable. The facts and circumstances of negotiability are contained in the disclosure documents of each third-party manager. Please refer to your Client Agreement's Exhibit(s) for information on fees and costs pertaining to each of your selected third-party manager(s). These fees and costs will be charged separately and are in addition to fees and costs that are payable to the Adviser.

Receipt of Additional Compensation

Neither the Adviser nor any supervised person is associated with any broker dealer or accepts compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

SFM does not charge or receive, directly or indirectly, any performance-based fees.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

SFM provides advisory services to:

- Individual – Trusts, estates, 401(k) plans and IRAs of a household count as one individual.

- High net worth individual – An individual who is a “qualified client” under rule 205-3 of the Advisers Act of 1940 or is a “qualified purchaser”.

Account Minimums

SFM requires a minimum of $5,000,000 to establish a new investment management relationship. However, the minimum may be waived at the sole discretion of the Adviser. The Adviser will continue to service existing accounts that have values that are below the minimum.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Method of Analysis

SFM’s main sources of financial information are prospectuses, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports and company press releases.

SFM may utilize official statements, continuing disclosures and other information available through the MSRB's Electronic Municipal Market Access system (EMMA) when analyzing municipal securities.

Fundamental Analysis

SFM uses fundamental analysis. Fundamental analysis involves predicting the price movement of an asset based on measures that are related to the underlying business. This method is used to judge the performance of management. (Although it is important to note that things outside of management’s control can impact performance.) Comparing the margins of the company and its relative performance to that of two or three of its peers will give an idea of whether the performance is potentially outside of management’s control.

Technical Analysis

SFM uses technical analysis. Technical analysis involves predicting the price movement of an asset based on factors unrelated to the underlying business (price, volume, and open interest, among other factors, to detect and interpret patterns to predict the movement of individual securities, an industry or the broad market).

Charting is a subsector of technical analysis and also focuses on predicting price movements of assets based on patterns that are formed by the price movements. SFM may recommend one or a combination of assets and investment strategies as follows:

Mutual and Exchange Traded Funds

SFM recommends index and actively managed, mutual and exchange-traded funds when designing client portfolios. SFM considers index funds based on how closely the funds’ characteristics mirror the indices they track. SFM analyzes actively managed funds by comparing funds that target the same market sector and have the same investment style using prospectuses and other sources of information. SFM reviews the following prior to recommending funds to clients:

- Rank in Category over various periods
- Return Rating
- Risk Rating
- YTD Return (Outsize swings in comparisons to peers can be a sign of risky practices such as placing large bets on certain sectors of the market.)
- 1 Yr. Return
- 3 Yr. Return
- 5 Yr. Return (Typically over a five-year period, the economy experiences a complete cycle. However, the way in which a manager operates in various economic environments reflects the manager's ability to make adjustments or stay the course.)
- Loads
- Total Expense Ratios
- Turnover
- Median Market Capitalization
- Morningstar Ratings

SFM also takes the manager or management team tenure under consideration to determine who was responsible for generating the performance numbers.

Public Equity

A corporation may issue stock to the general public after registration. Stock represents an ownership interest in a company. SFM uses valuation measures and financial information, evaluates the regulatory environment, analyzes products or services that are available or under development and the factors that can impact them to predict the price movement of a company's stock. SFM also makes comparisons to the company's peers and to the broader market.

Corporate Debt & Municipal Securities

SFM generally analyzes the current yield, yield to maturity, yield to call, call and default risks, and interest coverage. Debt is issued by federal, state and foreign governments and corporations to finance their operations. Debt represents their promise to repay the borrowed amount with interest according to the terms and conditions of the debt instrument. Debt obligations offer limited participation in the upside of a business. In exchange holders receive interest and a position that is generally senior to equity in a bankruptcy.

Private Securities

Some securities are acquired in unregistered, private sales from the issuer or from an affiliate of the issuer typically through, Regulation D or other private placement offerings or employee stock benefit plans, as compensation for professional services, or in exchange for providing start-up capital. SFM reviews the applicable offering documents. SFM may analyze:

- Management structure
- Backgrounds of management personnel
- Management and director compensation
- Financial statements
- Regulatory environment
- Competitors
- Products and services differentiators
- Threats to a company's ability to execute its business plan

In the case of pooled investments SFM may also analyze:

- Allocation of profits, losses and taxes
- Custody of securities and cash
- Lock-up period or any limitations towards the redemption of interest
- Exemptions from registration and types of investors
- Investment strategy, objective and the use of leverage
- Conflicts and potential conflicts of interest
- Performance information Gross or Net and how calculated
- Valuation particularly of illiquid securities and hard assets

Investment Strategies

SFM tailors its portfolio design and distribution strategies for each client based on their unique goals, risk tolerance and personal circumstances. SFM does not use rigid model portfolios. SFM meets with clients on a regular basis to ensure their plan continues to fit their evolving circumstances and risk parameters.

SFM incorporates analysis and decision-making along a number of intertwined aspects of a client's financial life. SFM broadens its focus beyond investment management to incorporate the distinct aspects of a client's financial plan into a coherent roadmap for reaching their personal and financial goals.

Risk of Loss

Clients are advised that investing in securities involves the risk of loss of the entire principal amount invested including any gains. Clients should not invest unless they are able to bear this risk. Any of the above investment strategies may lead to a loss on investments. Even hedging strategies may fail if markets move against the hedged investments. In addition, investing carries with it, opportunity risk. It is impossible to accurately predict the sectors of the market or asset classes that will have more favorable returns for a given period.

Item 8.A – Frequent Trading of Securities

SFM is not involved in the frequent trading of securities.

Item 8.B – Material Risks of Particular Securities

SFM doesn't recommend any type of security that involves significant or unusual risks except for the following which may present material risks to investors:

Municipal Securities – Municipal securities are backed by either the full faith and credit of the issuer or by revenue generated by a specific project (like a toll road or parking garage) for which the securities were issued. The latter type of securities could quickly lose value or even become virtually worthless if the expected project revenue does not meet expectations.

Private Securities – Private securities investments should be considered long term and illiquid. There are typically no secondary markets in which these types of investments trade. Therefore, if the value of the underlying assets should decline, the value of the investment would also decline and unlike other types of securities, an investor may find it hard to quickly sell shares in an illiquid market.

Interval Funds – Interval funds are classified as closed-end funds, but they are distinct because the shares do not trade on the secondary market, but instead periodically the fund offers to buy back a percentage of outstanding shares at net asset value. This results in the funds being largely illiquid. There is no guarantee that investors will be able to sell their shares at any given time or in the desired amount. Additionally, repurchase is done on a pro-rata basis; therefore, there is no guarantee that an investor can redeem the number of shares they want to during a given redemption.

Partnership Interest

Investment partnerships are typically composed of a limited number of partners and at least one general partner. The liability of the limited partners is restricted to the amount of each partner's investment. The liability of the general partner is theoretically unlimited and extends beyond the amount invested to personal or corporate assets. Because of this increased exposure, the general partner manages the partnership, makes the investment decisions and receives management fees and a higher portion of the return on partnership investments.

Clients should consult SFM if they have questions concerning the basic characteristics of these or other investment products or about the risks and potential rewards of investing.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

SFM does not have any disciplinary information to disclose.

Item 9.A – Criminal or Civil Actions

Neither SFM nor any management person has been found guilty of or has any criminal or civil actions pending in a domestic, foreign or military court.

Item 9.B – Administrative Proceedings

Neither SFM nor any management person has any administrative proceedings pending before the SEC, any other federal regulatory agency, any state regulatory agency, or any foreign financial regulatory authority.

Item 9.C – Self-Regulatory Organization (“SRO”) Proceedings

Neither SFM nor any management person have been found by any SRO to have caused an investment-related business to lose its authorization to do business, or to have been involved in violating the SRO’s rules, or were barred or suspended from membership or from associating with other members, or were expelled from membership, otherwise significantly limited from investment-related activities, or fined.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Item 10.A – Broker-Dealer Registration

Neither the Adviser nor its management persons is or owns a securities broker-dealer or has an application for registration pending. No associated person of the Adviser is a registered representative of a broker-dealer.

Item 10.B – Futures Commission Merchant/Commodities

Neither SFM nor any management person is a commodity broker/futures commission merchant, a commodity pool operator or commodity trader, for the foregoing entities; nor do they have any registration applications pending.

Item 10.C – Relationships with Related Persons

See Item 10.D

Item 10.D – Relationships with Other Advisers

Wealthspire Advisors LLC (“Wealthspire”) is a registered investment adviser and subsidiary of Wealthspire, LP, owned by Madison Dearborn Partners, LLC. Wealthspire performs investment due diligence, market research, and provides manager recommendations on behalf of SFM for a fixed annual fee. Wealthspire employees serve as members of SFM’s investment committee. SFM does not believe this creates any conflicts of interest.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Item 11.A – Code of Ethics

SFM has adopted a Code of Ethics that sets forth standards of conduct expected of advisory personnel and to address conflicts that arise from personal trading by advisory personnel. Advisory personnel are obligated to adhere to the Code of Ethics, and applicable securities and other laws.

The Code covers a range of topics that may include: general ethical principles, reporting personal securities trading, exceptions to reporting securities trading, reportable securities, initial public offerings and private placements, reporting ethical violations, distribution of the Code, review and enforcement processes, amendments to Form ADV and supervisory procedures. SFM will provide a copy of the Code to any client or prospective client upon request.

Item 11.B – Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Principal Trading

Neither SFM nor any affiliated broker-dealer affects securities transactions as principal with SFM's clients. Neither SFM nor any associated person acting as a principal, buys securities from (or sells securities to) clients, acts as general partner in a partnership in which Adviser solicits client investments, or acts as an investment adviser to an investment company that SFM recommends to clients.

Agency-Cross Action Transactions

Neither SFM nor any associated person recommends to clients, or buys or sells for client accounts securities in which SFM or an associated person has a material financial interest.

Item 11.C – Personal Trading by Associated Persons

SFM recommends that clients invest in various types of assets. SFM and its associated persons may invest in the same types of assets. Permitted investments for associated persons are all asset classes. See Item 11.D for information concerning conflicts of interest.

Item 11.D – Conflicts of Interest with Personal Trading by Associated Persons

Associated persons may own an interest in or buy or sell for their own accounts the same securities, which may be recommended to advisory clients. Associated persons seek to ensure that they do not personally benefit from the short-term market effects of their recommendations to clients and their personal transactions are regularly monitored.

Associated persons are aware of the rules regarding material non-public information and insider trading. Associated persons may also buy or sell a specific security for their own account based on personal investment considerations, which SFM does not deem appropriate to buy or sell for clients.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Item 12.A – Factors in Selecting or Recommending Broker-Dealers

SFM designates a broker-dealer (“Broker”) to provide trade execution and custodial services. In selecting the Broker, SFM may consider not only available prices and commission rates, but also other relevant factors such as execution capabilities, research and other services provided by the broker-dealer.

SFM will have the authority to affect transactions for the Accounts with or through any broker-dealer or bank if SFM believes that “best execution” of transactions may be obtained through such other broker-dealer or bank. Client agrees to furnish any such broker-dealer or bank such authorizations as any of them or SFM may request to implement the agreed upon services.

SFM does not refer clients to particular broker-dealers in exchange for client referrals from those broker-dealers. SFM does not recommend that clients direct their brokerage business to any particular broker-dealer.

Item 12.B – Trade Aggregation

SFM’s investment strategies do not present an opportunity to aggregate trades. Refer to the brochures of third-party managers and Sub-advisers for information about their aggregation policies.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

All accounts are subject to a regular and ongoing review in an active management style to assure conformity with client objectives and guidelines. Accounts are reviewed in light of emerging trends and developments as well as market volatility. In addition, a change in the client's investment objective or financial situation may trigger a review.

Clients receive confirmations of transactions and statements of positions from the account custodian, either via mail or secure online view, no less than quarterly. Client account status from custodian, including balances, holdings and transactions are available for online client view via a secure portal.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

On occasion, SFM may refer clients to other professionals for services that SFM is unable to perform. In turn, SFM may receive referrals from these firms.

Although there is no direct monetary benefit derived from these arrangements, they are mutually beneficial and provide an indirect benefit. SFM will never base its referrals solely on any formal or informal arrangement.

Item 15 – Custody

Client assets are held by qualified custodians. Clients will receive account statements from the broker-dealer, bank, or other qualified custodian, and clients should carefully review those statements.

The Adviser maintains custody of client funds and/or securities by virtue of having one or more Standing Letters of Authorization (“SLOA”) from clients of the Adviser. SLOAs provide investment advisers with the authority to direct custodians to disburse client funds to one or more third parties as specifically designated by the client.

Clients instruct account custodians to accept the Adviser’s instructions (on the client’s behalf) to move money to third parties designated by the client in the SLOA. The Adviser’s authority is strictly limited by the terms of the instructions, and the client retains full power to change or revoke the arrangement at any time.

The SEC has determined that under these circumstances, the Adviser retains custody of client assets.

The Adviser will periodically review fund transfer authorizations from client accounts and wire transfer destination information to ensure that transfers conform to the authority granted in the SLOAs.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

SFM will have unlimited discretionary trading authority to select third party investment managers and execute securities transactions on behalf of Client without obtaining specific Client consent prior to each investment manager selection or each transaction.

SFM assumes this discretionary authority upon the execution of a limited power of attorney agreement by the Client. SFM will have discretion over the selection of the broker to be used but not the commission rates to be paid (refer to 12.A for additional information).

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

SFM does not accept authority to vote proxies on behalf of clients as a matter of policy. However, some sub-advisors may vote proxies. Clients will receive their proxy information directly from their custodian or a transfer agent or from SFM. Clients may contact SFM with questions about a particular solicitation by telephone at (425) 893-9195.

Item 18 – Financial Information

SFM doesn't accept $1,200 six months in advance of providing services and uses qualified custodians, so no audited balance sheet is being provided. There is no financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair the SFM's ability to meet its contractual commitments to its clients.
